

NEWS

CREATIVE TEAM

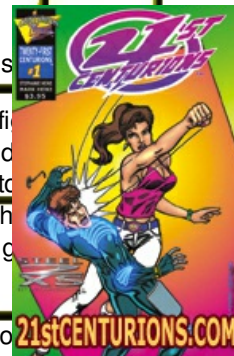

ISSUE #3

ISSUE #2

ISSUE #1

ISSUE ZERO

ABOUT

st year at WW, since this t
were finally at a show near the waterfront ins wanted to eat there for the y in from Orlando, FL then spend a whole lot of extra time driving around eating Golden Chicken in Milwaukee again at GRRRRREAT fried chicken

well, s
and it fi
rdworld
e, WI to
ring wh
will be g

whole
losed b
t since y
Mark di
uess w
one thin

York, Europe, Asia or Cali e's the usual suspects of KFC and Popeye's, but they're not favs of mine. I grew up with Jerry's which is long gone (since the 90's) and Mark grew up with Golden Chicken. We drove to Deland once just because we heard there was a good fire

cooked it in probably had been there tha

March 23, 2010 March 22 was the anniv without representation. When you have p that you're not intelligent enough to hand

Welcome to the 21st Centurions website!
Updates by Stephanie Heike

Don't believe the hype. It's all about money and power.

March 16, 2010 Working on the cover to FF #153. AC started publishing Femforce way back in 1984 when I was in high school!

Did you know we have ÔMÔOPC comics printed in Russia and Femforce comics printed in Italy?

There used to be two places to go to get the South Florida/Miami experience in Orlando. One of them, Burdine's is gone now. Burdine's was a department store designed for the "Florida lifestyle" which means that it had year-round beach and warm weather clothing and tropical themed merchandise. They had buyers who lived here, which I can't stress enough how important that is, that not every region has the same clothing needs.

Unfortunately, Burdines got bought out by Macy's which is all based on the lifestyle of snotty Neu Yerkers, which means there's absolutely nothing to buy there anymore if you live in Florida, unless you're a snotty ex-pat Neu Yerker who wants to look like a wilted wet bird while dripping in the humidity and heat.

The other place is Pollo Tropical. It's always a pain ordering there and the food isn't really worth standing in line for 30-35 minutes--but you do get the Miami experience. They do have the best fast food sweet plantains.
Unfortunately, Pollo Tropical decided to change their bright and colorful Miami decor to a mottled ugly "street person sleeping in their own mess" Miami decor. Their new decor is something that probably looked good on paper, but doesn't work in practical usage, the restaurant just looks grimy and beige-y now. Maybe I'll go back in another eight nine months.

Feb 25, 2010 Working on three different things--current freelance gig, 21st project in progress and yet another commission. Just getting over a lingering nasty cough n cold. Going to throw a few vhs on the tv to keep me going.

Feb 13, 2010 We don't have any snow:P It's showing everywhere but here. I'd like some snow!!! You guys are SOOO lucky to go out and play in the snow every day!! Here it's like 50 something and cloudy. Bleah! Me want SNOW!!

Jan 22, 2010 New Ebay listings! Click pur ple ebay button! Also, FF #151 is on sale at the AC shop right now! ----

Jan 19, 2010 It's a new year, all right...where's the happy? I've been working As one of the few indy female comic book editors, I've been pretty darn busy working on future issues of FF, plus I'm working on freelance inking jobs which pay bills. When I can, I'm working on 21st. If I have any time left over, it's watching old movies and cooking. Mommas don't let your girls grow up to be comic book artists! (or let your girls grow up to be comic book writers or editors, for that matter!)

Our buddy Nick got some dvds, so we got his vhs copies of some old 30's movies, so Mark's happy. -----

MARK
HEIKE

STEPHANIE HEIKE

COMIC
ART

CONTACT
US!